

Kentucky 4-H Membership Policy and Cross County Lines Participation Information

I. Kentucky 4-H Membership Policy

Any young person ages 8 – 18 may be involved in Kentucky 4-H in the county in which they live or go to school.

Exceptions to this policy are made through a request of the member and their parent/guardian on a yearly basis through the county 4-H agents and the local County 4-H Councils.

The purpose of crossing county lines should be:

- To increase the educational opportunities and experiences of young people.

The purpose of crossing county lines should NOT be:

- For competitive gain or financial edge.
- Due to the perception or status of a program.

If a young person pursues crossing county lines:

- The 4-Her and their family turn in Form A to the agent in the county where the young person resides or attends school.
- The deadlines for requests are set by the local 4-H agent and local County 4-H Council.
- 4-H agents retain a copy of the request form with the decision and return it to the young person's parents/guardians.
- The decision remains on the local level. If a question of eligibility is brought to our attention the state 4-H office will work with the local 4-H agent(s) to get the documentation needed.

II. Cooperation

Some situations can be handled by the cooperation of counties rather than the transfer of membership for a project. Counties may cooperate by sharing resources to offer a program or project. Counties may share facilities, equipment, etc. Members from two different counties may meet at the same time and location. Youth may earn educational hours in the cooperating county, but their membership remains in the county of 4-H enrollment. When cooperation occurs, each county maintains its own identity and membership.

III. Guidelines Governing the Cross County Lines for Project Participation

Agreements are to be processed at the beginning of the project for the program year. Youth crossing county lines must meet all related deadlines (registration, ownership, and otherwise) for the county they wish to transfer their membership.

- Members may not compete in the same project in more than one county.
- A 4-H member that crosses county lines for project participation in another county must carry a copy of the approved request (Form A) to each competitive event to verify membership.
- Once an agreement is finalized, it will remain in place until August 31st, the end of the program year. To continue as a transfer for additional years, the 4-H member must file a new request annually.
